Heir to Throne Is Assured Dominion Will Reciprocate

Hopes of World, He Declares, Now Centre on London Parley—Premier Bennett and Secretary Thomas Also Speak.

By Thomas J. Clapham
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, July 4.—The Prince of Wales last night told guests at a Dominion Day dinner he was confident of Canada's ability to emerge from the economic depression and proceed to a bright future.

Standing beside Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada and addressing an audience including representatives of every phase of empire life, the Prince said, "I know Canada better than any other part of the Empire. I am really quite ashamed to think six years have elapsed since I have been to my ranch in Alberta; not that my residence at High River or any effort on my part could alter the price of cattle or vary the exchanges.

"Canada," he continued, "in suffering with the rest of the world. I am proud of my association with her, and am confident, as her citizens are confident, of her recuperative powers and bright future."

The Prince dealt briefly with the struggling World Economic Conference and last year's Ottawa Economic Conference.

Confidence brought together representatives of all the Empire nations.

"The hopes of the world," he said, "are fixed just now on the Economic Conference, but our mind naturally goes back to a year ago, the eve of the Ottawa conference."

"Quite apart from the discussions and agreements then made, that here is a great national unit by the very nature of its composition to meet in union but without any trace of that obsolete to progress, and that evil of present-day, individual nationalism."

MUST BE CONFIDENT

"We all know," he said, "that the future of the economic world must be dealt with very great difficulties, but we must be confident for the future."

"The most impressive feature of the Ottawa conference," he declared, "is the participation in representation of various parts of the Empire."

"The nations of the Commonwealth, the British Empire, the nations to the 'great task of helping put the world on the economic and financial recovery.'"

"A loud laughter, the Prince added that the Dominion Secretary, J. H. Thomas, who had spoken before him, had said that the best part of his own speech when he wished Prime Minister Bennett to give the happy return of his birthday, which coincided with London's celebration of Dominion Day. Mr. Bennett was 60 Monday.

Mr. Bennett, thanking the Prince and Mr. Thomas for their birthday wishes, said Canada regarded the Prince as a Canadian, regardless of his present abroad.

PRODUCT OF INDUSTRY
Canada, he continued, represented an adventure in nation-building against the odds, and was in the best sense a product of industry and perseverance.

"Of the Ottawa agreements the Prince said that the Dominion had been entered for less than a year, and that the Dominion had been effective was borne out clearly by figures."

"One of the greatest responsibilities of new nations, he concluded, is to learn 'no nation can live itself. But each must mature its obligations in world-wide terms.'"

Mr. Thomas said he spoke for Great Britain, "the youngest of the Dominions."

Mr. Thomas, with the Ottawa conference the Dominion's secretary, J. H. Thomas, said that the meeting had been fulfilled in letter and spirit.

T. K. TOO GENEROUS
The United Kingdom, he said, had been accused of being too generous, but he, personally, would rather say that the Dominion had been too generous in dealing with the people of the Empire."

Mr. Thomas said that the Dominion had been a constant of crisis. "Mr. Thomas continued, referring to the Ottawa conference, that the Dominion had been a constant of crisis."

New Venture for Lindberghs

Another pioneering venture in aviation is the flight of Lindbergh and his wife, Anne, to make some to Greenland, and a position is being taken, to determine the feasibility of a northern passenger-and-mail air route to Europe. ## Flights to Canada to Be Made Via Iceland or Greenland—Politics Delaying Arrangements For Service.

By EDWARD HUNTER
Special to EDMONTON BULLETIN

LONDON, July 4.—Politics and finance are what is delaying the start of a transatlantic air service for passengers and mail, and not the lack of technical ability. That is the view of the Imperial Airways, Ltd., the semi-governmental aviation service which operates through the British empire, as expressed today to the International News Service.

A six-engine flying boat has just been constructed for the Royal Air Force which authorities of the Imperial Airways considered would be suitable for a transatlantic service. However, a larger aeroplane even than that would be preferable, and a service flight starts, these enormous machines would have to be built.

The difficulty is not at all in the matter of flying a few thousand miles nonstop. It was pointed out, but in being able to carry passengers, cargo and mail the same and the pilot, who not only carrying a few passengers in their helmet do not bring profit.

WOULD NOT PAY
Transatlantic service could not be made to pay for quite a while in the opinion of the aviation authorities, and the subsidies would have to be obtained or other means, and the British government would want them to share the cost.

These routes are under consideration by the British government, and the country is primarily to link the Empire together. These are the routes:

1.—London to the Azores to Bermuda to New York.

2.—London to Iceland to Newfoundland to Canada.

3.—London to Norway to Sweden to Finland to Russia to America.

Aviation people here prefer the first route because of favorable weather conditions, although a 2,000-mile hop is required across the Atlantic. The second route is held as better, because the Azores are a safe haven, and the third route is a semi-monopoly in Portugal.

SECOND ROUTE
The second route is considered too unstable because of unfavorable weather conditions. Ocean steamers even try to avoid that pathway as well.

As to the third route, that would be the most favorable of all because of the frequent refueling stops, but the only handicap is the weather along that aerial highway.

Annual Summer Fair Shows Signs of Huge Success

Advance Sale of Tickets Indicates Extensive Season of 1933

With seven days of horse-racing guaranteed, entries about the same as last year and the advance sale of tickets showing every indication of bettering the 1932 total, the Edmonton Exhibition Association's annual summer fair, July 10 to 22, will be up to the standard or even better than those of previous years. It was announced by directors at the general meeting of the association in the City Hotel Monday night.

Several changes in the schedule for the fair were confirmed by the directors on Wednesday, July 18. The livestock parade night from Thursday to Wednesday, July 19, this time in Citizens' Day, and Manager Percy W. Abbott informed directors the arrangement would meet with the approval of exhibitors, while a better crowd would be ensured.

WILL OPEN FORMALLY
After a short discussion as to whether it was necessary to have the fair officially opened by the mayor, it was decided that the mayor would not be present. It was decided to have the fair opened by the mayor on Monday, July 24. It was explained that the Edmonton Exhibition Association was entitled to the honor which was made possible by reason of the fact that horses will not be at Regina until the following week. This arrangement was made in order that the racing events might conform with the grain fair in the Queen City.

Directors also decided to advance $750 to stable owners in Winnipeg to guarantee racing in the city.

KENTUCKY HORSE DISPLAY
Mr. Abbott informed directors that W. J. Fulkerts, of Dubuque, was planning on bringing his Kentucky horses to the fair. These will be displayed in front of the grandstand in a five-sided exhibition.

Many of the cattle, horses and swine were about the same as last year, while those of the poultry and commercial exhibits will approximate the 1932 total.

The advance ticket sale was again proving successful, with about 400 agencies in the city and around the province. Already there had been three times the amount collected than the advance sale this year as compared to last year.

Special rates are being offered by the railways for Edmonton fair-goers from Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, with the exception of the coast-to-coast service. These rates will be effective on two days of the fair—Tuesday and Thursday.

NAMED DELEGATES
President Davidson, Manager Abbott and Vice-President J. H. Douglas, who is also chairman of the association's delegates to the C.E.A. exhibition.

Discussing the pass system at the fair, the board decided that the same method as that used last year should again be in effect. This method, that passes to the exhibitors to those who serve lunch in the grounds, was approved. The decision was made in the case of courtesy passes.

Patrolmen and policemen will be issued passes. Mr. Abbott explaining that these men would be on duty if their services were required while they were on the grounds.

Hot Weather Causes Trek of Settlers From Dry Areas

Hot dry weather period in southern and central portions of Alberta have resulted in many applications for removal of settlers and their effects to more northern tracts of land.

It was disclosed Tuesday by officials of the provincial agricultural department, that about 75 families have applied for removal.

The drought which has afflicted applications came in that section of province known as Berry Creek district where, in addition to drought there has been much damage to crops and stock.

For two or three years previous to 1932 there had been considerable movement of settlers from the south-eastern section of the province to farms west and north west of this city and as far north as the Peace River valley.

CHARGES AGAINST MARLBORO PROBED

TORONTO, July 4.—The Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada Monday night had put it up to the Ontario Hockey Association to investigate charges of professionalism against the Toronto Marlboro Hockey club.

Disclosures affecting the interest of both the A.A.U. branch and the O.H.A. were made during hearings held by the Ontario Hockey Association on Monday night.

The O.H.A. executive, at a recent meeting decided to defer consideration of the question until the court case was finished.

But the A.A.U. branch's stand apparently means an investigation is to be started without delay.

SENIOR BALL RIVALS PLAY THIS EVENING

He's Champ Of Amateurs BRITISH OPEN FIRST DAY HAS USUAL UPSETS

First protest to be allowed in the Senior Baseball League in two seasons under the new regime last night gave Royals a victory over the South Side club. The league executive reviewed the defeat Royals suffered Sunday at the hands of the South Siders and marked up a win for them instead. "It was a committee-room triumph but according to the league rules, the executive found it the only one way out."

It all came about when Eric Hinchcliffe, former catcher of the South Side, stepped in Sunday's game. "There is a rule that states no player can transfer from one team to another if he is higher in the standings. Yet the South Side manager, Henry Lower, badly overruled this and used Hinchcliffe, despite the fact that he had other players in uniform on the bench."

Support Weakens During Ninth Inning Monday To Allow Two Runs

BOSTON, July 4.—Hal Schumacher just missed pitching his sixth shutout of the season Monday when his support weakened in the ninth inning as New York Giants defeated Boston Braves 5-2 in the first game of their long road trip. The victory increased the Giants lead over the St. Louis Cardinals to six full games.

Schumacher not only scored his ninth victory, but also added a compared to five reverses but drove in the Giants' first run with a double off Ed Fallstein, the Braves' starting pitcher, in the first inning. 010 001 000—3-0 Boston. 000 000 000—2-7 St. Louis.

Schumacher and Mancuso, Boston's two full-time pitchers, were aided by a 5-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox, who dropped to fifth position.

Clouting Cubs To Tangle With King's Royals at Renfrew Park

Blistering through many years of competition, Norman Dodge's clouting band of Cubs and Webb Kings Royals will take up in a new Senior Baseball League encounter at Renfrew Park this evening starting at 8:30 o'clock.

This will be their first clouting in the second half of the league schedule and the game is of the greatest importance to both of them. The Cubs finished last in the South Side in the first half and now are gunning for the second half honors in order to get into the championship playoff at the end of the season. Neither side can afford to lose many games and, for this reason, a great battle is expected when they lock horns.

Cuba is a fine new pitcher and third sacker due here but it is not known whether he will be in action this evening. Glen Wilkie or Silver Smith, who has turned out for the Webb Kings, will be taking the pitching assignment.

Webb King, of the Kings, is a pitcher who has been in the Royals, is taking no chances on tonight's game. He is a good moundman, tall Scotty Lee, primed for the game and expects to have a new record for less than 11 runs come here in time for the contest.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 4.—Three spectacular 72's by William (Pat) Nolan, veteran Irish professional; George Dunlap, Jr., and Horton Smith, of the invading United States contingent, opened the first day of qualifying play in the British open golf championship over the parched surfaces of historic St. Andrews.
